

Annual Report 2019/20

Silver Chain

A Message from our Board Chair and CEO

For each of us, the year 2020 was like no other.

The global COVID-19 pandemic re-framed many aspects of our society and the ways we live, resulting in unforeseeable and seismic changes for the people we love and care for, our workplaces and communities, and the health, community and aged care sectors across the world.

The pandemic has tested us all.

Silver Chain's work continued unabated and we rose to the challenge magnificently, operating seamlessly and safely by continuing our dedication to clinical expertise, committing to best practice protocols and standards in infection prevention, training and supporting our workforce to operate in COVID-safe ways and continuing our service offerings; and prioritising communication.

During a highly dynamic environment, the pandemic proved our agility in order to meet the needs of our staff, clients, partners and communities. Our service continuity was unaffected, we upgraded our infrastructure and continued to advocate for human rights and dignity.

Anne Skipper
Board Chair

Dale Fisher
Chief Executive Officer

Silver Chain specialises in making complex care simple and convenient. In 2020, our 4,450 employees provided more than 3,516,991 occasions of service for 106,412 clients across Australia, the highest numbers in our history.

In a difficult year, Silver Chain staff and volunteers continued to make us proud, demonstrating unwavering grace under pressure. Their expert care, connectedness and humanity have been exemplary.

Our clients were open to new ways of treatment and support, taking up virtual appointments and other modifications to our services with enthusiasm and trust.

And the support of our commercial, government and community partners has never been stronger.

Wherever you are in our community, we offer our heartfelt thanks.

The changes that we implemented during 2020 have brought many benefits to our ways of working. We will harness all we learned during our experiences of COVID-19 and build on that momentum.

We look forward to creating a future of care in the home. Silver Chain will further evolve into an organisation characterised by optimism and hope, leveraging our strengths and supporting each other and our clients with respect, skill and compassion.

About the Silver Chain Group

The Silver Chain Group has a rich history as Australian pioneers, innovators and leaders of care in the home.

For more than 125 years, we have been caring for the community, promoting the rights and providing choices for people to be cared for in their homes, while advocating for a new future in home care.

We are now recognised as one of Australia's leading not-for-profit community-based health and aged care providers.

Our services include home-based health care, with expertise in specialist nursing, palliative care, home hospital and allied health services such as physiotherapy, podiatry and speech pathology. We also provide in-home aged care and personal support services.

Our external accreditation and compliance status demonstrate our wide-ranging commitment to upholding and delivering care that is safe, personal, connected and effective – Best Care, every person, every time.

Accreditation ensures that we remain a quality focused and transparent organisation by ensuring we are compliant in providing our services at industry-accepted levels. We enjoy certification from the Australian Council on Healthcare Standards and the Aged Care Quality Standard, as well as a range of State based accreditation and audit processes. We also have accreditations to service various contracts such as:

- Department of Veterans' Affairs
- Commonwealth Home Support Programme
- Department of Health and Ageing
- Department of Families and Communities.

While our status is impressive, we remain focused on a single, overriding commitment: we believe that everyone has the right to live a healthy, safe and independent life in their own home and to enjoy the ability to stay active and connected within their community, supported by our skilled and compassionate care.

Our Vision and Values

It is our vision to provide the world's best health and aged care in the home so Australians can confidently live their lives as they choose.

We believe all people should be able to control and manage their own health and wellbeing.

To bring this vision to life, our work is underpinned by four key values:

- Care: We provide the highest quality care to keep our clients safe
- Community: We put our clients first and understand their needs to provide the best outcomes
- Integrity: All clients are treated equally and with respect
- Excellence: Services are timely, evidenced-based and continuously improved.

Breadth of services

Our highly trained and experienced Silver Chain clinicians and carers work in the community to deliver a broad range of services in our clients' homes, in one of our nursing clinics or as an in-reach service to residents of aged care facilities. Services include:

- Catheter and continence care
- Diabetes care and support
- Medication management
- Respiratory care and oxygen therapy
- Stoma care
- Wound care
- Home Hospital
- Home-based Palliative care
- Dementia care
- Palliative Dementia care
- Allied Health and therapy services such as Physiotherapy, Occupational Therapy, Podiatrists, Speech Therapists and Therapy Aides
- Rural and Remote Health Services
- Social Centres in Western Australia
- Home and personal care services such as cleaning, gardening, shopping and bill-paying, transport, safety alarms and companionship.

Supporting our people

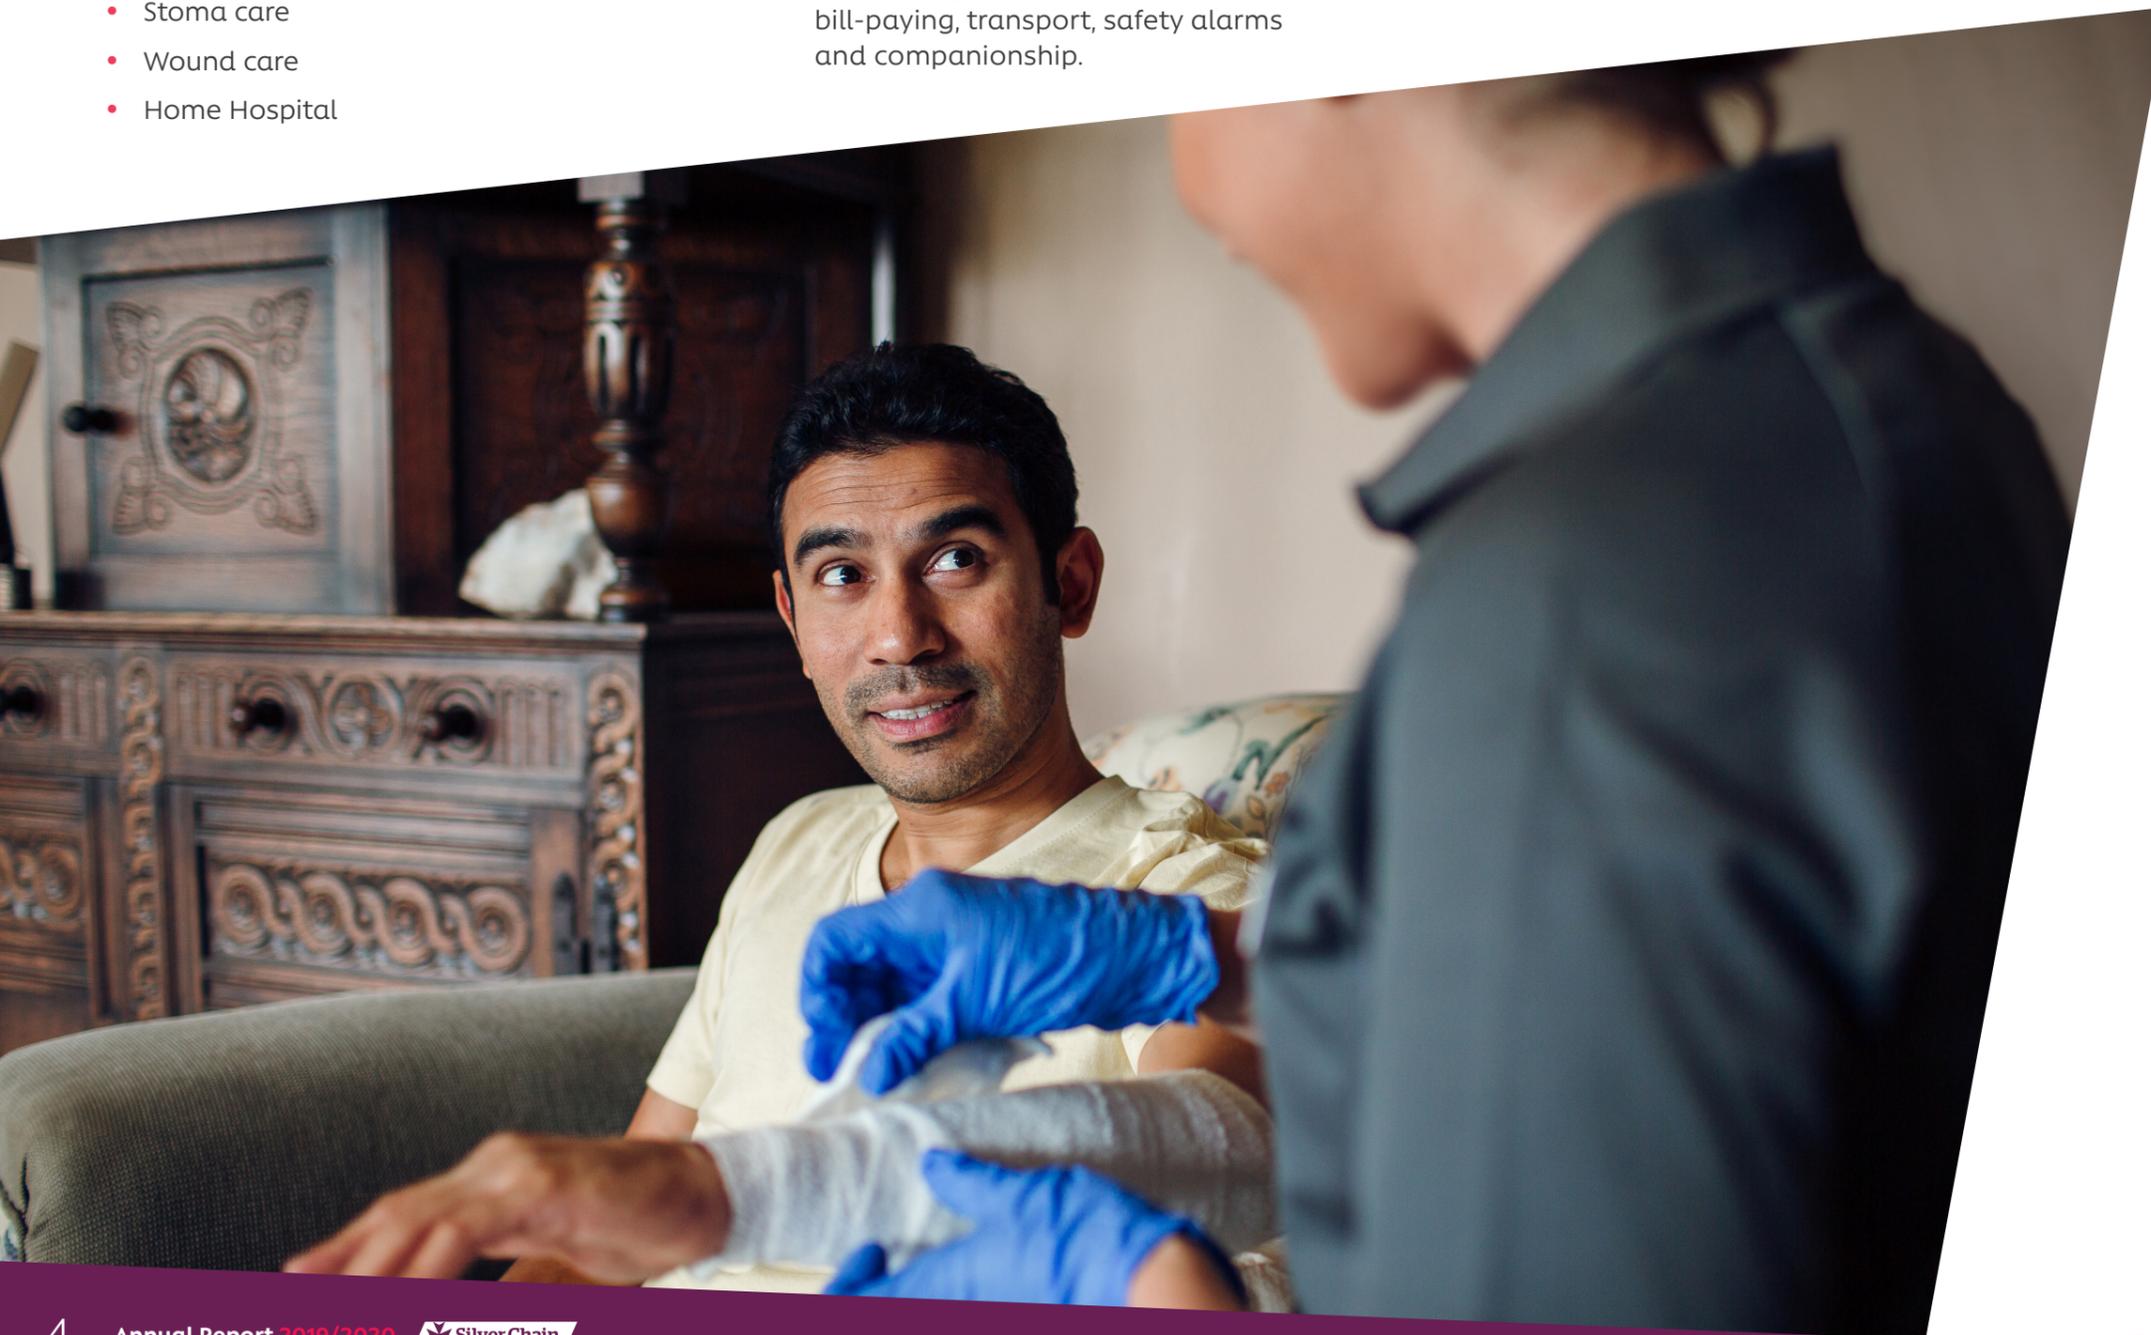

As a service-focussed organisation, we have one of the country's largest and most highly skilled community care workforces. We will continue to build the capability of our people to rapidly respond to challenges and opportunities as they arise.

Silver Chain is a leading employer in our industry. We have 4,450 employees and almost 200 volunteers caring for people across Australia. Our mobile and dispersed workforce includes more than 3,500 staff who work largely in people's homes. More than 1,000 work from more than 50 locations across Australia, as well as in their own homes – enabled by workplace technologies.

Our people include the spectrum of highly trained medical and nursing practitioners, world class researchers, allied health providers, personal carers and professional support teams.

To better support their vital work, during 2020 we strengthened our People and Culture team and launched our new People Strategy.

Our aim is to have our people feel trusted, connected, empowered, developed, supported and enabled with the right tools and new, agile ways to perform their very important roles, to celebrate their diversity and provide them with meaningful, flexible career paths so they may do their best work and thrive.

Best Care delivered

Best Care is the term we use to describe our enterprise-wide approach to support the experiences of our clients at the point-of-care.

Best Care is provided to all clients in their homes, whether they are receiving the most complex acute health care or simple home help support - we value all care equally. We put the client first, balancing their individual care with their broader social needs.

Throughout the year under review, our Best Care Committee provided guidance across the organisation and achieved several key strategic milestones such as revising its own structure to specifically align with our Best Care goals: safe, personal, connected and effective. The committee developed key frameworks (including Quality and Safety, Policy, Measuring and Reporting); created plans to guide us in Communications and Workforce Transformation; and established a National Audit Schedule.

To spotlight our focus, Silver Chain's Best Care Awards have been developed as our premier, enterprise-wide recognition program. Categories are designed to recognise our people who exemplify our Best Care goals. Awards are made to both teams and individuals.

To further recognise our achievements, in 2020 we added two new categories for individuals:

1. The Outstanding Contribution Award recognises individuals who have made an outstanding contribution in providing, or making possible, care and services that achieve the Best Care goals and exemplify our organisational values.
2. The Courage and Humanity Award recognises individuals who have demonstrated courage in difficult circumstances, strength in the face of adversity, and the willingness to stand up and challenge the status quo.

For a second consecutive year, we received more than 200 nominations nationally - a tribute to us all as it not only demonstrates Silver Chain's depth of care, but the pride we take in each other.
